

Armistice Day to Be Celebrated Today Throughout the Empire By Silent Offering of Thanks

Sentiments of Gratitude and Patriotism Still Fresh Among People, Although Grief Over Losses is Less Acute—Governor-General Attends Special Service at Toronto

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—Armistice Day, the second anniversary of the Great War, will be celebrated today throughout the British Empire, and particularly every city, town, village and hamlet in the dominion of Canada will in some form officially recognize the day. It is believed that the two minute silence, which featured the anniversary last year, at the request of King George will again this year, at the renewal of his Majesty's request, be generally observed by British subjects everywhere.

He was in the case Nov. 11, 1918, all businesses will be suspended for two minutes, beginning at 11 o'clock noon, and people in all walks of life will observe the day in some form during this period. Factory whistles generally will be blown at 11 o'clock, and the instruments in the various telegraph offices will be blown at 11 o'clock. The Canadian Press, Ltd., will stop its service for the two minutes, but will continue to publish a general quotation which will prevail during the day, and will also publish the triumph of the allied armistice.

The feeling of sadness over the losses caused by the war may be less acute this year than last, but the sentiments of gratitude and patriotism are still fresh among the people and the historic November 11 will be fittingly celebrated.

In Toronto the vast of their excellencies will make the day an occasion in coincidence with armistice day and they will attend a special service in St. Paul's Anglican church at noon.

A cenotaph has been erected in front of the city hall, and the services of the brave men who gave their lives for the empire will be held on the city hall steps at noon.

tion that the aid of the United States was what ensured the allied success, and compelled Germany to sign the armistice when she did.

The decision to help Germany, in France, Italy and the United States to unite in resisting the attempt to subject the world to war would be evidence of divine inspiration. But inspiration alone was not enough. Without preparation, inspiration would not go far. Men, and guns, and shells and all the appliances of war, were needed as well as devotion, courage and sacrifice. Without these, the devotion and courage could only result in sacrifice, not in success.

The Belgian fleet and army, the French soldiers in their millions, the British army and navy, were all needed at the beginning of the war. Had any part been lacking, no one can say what the result might have been. Had all, or any considerable part, been lacking, there could have been no question as to the result. As long as war is possible—and it will be possible so long as the mind of man remains as it is—the Great War teaches that it must be prepared for. The alternative is submission to force, no matter how tyrannical or unjust. War means sacrifice. The people who will not sacrifice in the hour of need will not enjoy the fruits of peace.

And what part had Canada in the war? Canadian volunteers were available from the day war was declared until it closed, when the first expeditionary force sailed from Quebec 30,000 strong in October, 1914. It was thought to be the supreme effort of Canada in the war. But before Nov. 11, 1918 the Canadian dead numbered 60,000; twice as many as the total of the first expeditionary force.

And what has Canada got in return for such an appalling sacrifice? Nothing can fill the gaps left in so many homes. Nothing can heal the heart-wounds that have been made. But every boy born in Canada, and every boy growing up in Canada, has a look on his face because of the sacrifices rendered and the sacrifices made by his fathers and his brothers.

War different from the war that prevailed before. The Canadian of six years ago accepted the idea that in other countries there were more capable competent men than he was. If he did not accept it willingly, it was imposed upon him by his friends. That was particularly true in regard to the supreme test of patriotism: war.

Whoever had suggested in the year 1914 that on the field of battle the Canadian boy from the rural village or the back country would be able to hold his own on the battle-field with, say, the Prussian Guards would have been laughed at for the apothym.

Today every youngster in the rural village or on the back country knows that when the test comes in which the boy from the back country is to be put, as the case may be, was part of the force that met and defeated Germany at the end of the war.

Who brother Bill or cousin Tom did, he feels that he can do the same of the cause—of the world, of Europe. What brother Bill or cousin Tom did, he feels that he can do the same of the cause—of the world, of Europe.

Canada made stupendous material sacrifices in the war and not material returns. But the fact that the interference with the preservation of the world's liberties at a time when her help was needed, has been a country and people into a position in the world that they never before occupied, and that they could not have attained except by the aid of service and sacrifice.

The Orliv's Elections.

The municipal elections are due on December 1st. The issue is one of taxation—between the taxpayers and the tax collectors. The taxpayers of Edmonton have been ungenerally exploited by the administration of the past two years, headed by the present mayor, in Edmonton the ostensible owner of property practically rents it from the city.

Of course, financial obligations incurred in boom times must be met in so far as they can be met. Civic services must be maintained and paid for. There must be taxes and they must be paid.

But taxation may be pushed to a point at which it becomes confiscation. That is what has reached the taxpayers in Edmonton so far. The productive property is concerned, the immense number of lots that have become the property of the city because the owners could not pay the taxes on them is evidence.

And taxation so burdensome as to be confiscatory is non-productive property by wholesale cannot be other than equally burdensome on productive property and business activity.

The taxpayers of Edmonton have beaten the record this year in the amount of their tax pay.

ments. This was no doubt the result of improved business conditions. If it meant that tax payments were overtaking civic expenditure, the outlook would be hopeful. In that case the credit of the city would be the way of being re-established, and an ultimate reduction of the tax burden might be expected. For the fact is that notwithstanding the increased amount of taxes paid, expenditure still keeps far in advance of revenues, the situation becomes seriously discouraging.

At the present time the business outlook for Edmonton is good. The business of the city depends on the country which surrounds it. A good harvest is now being marketed. While prices are low, there is at least abundance; which must be reflected in reduced costs of living.

Coal mining, lumbering and fishing are going strong. The oil strike in the north is attracting favorable attention all over the continent.

The one handicap from which the city suffers is the condition of the civic finances and the resulting burden of taxation. This is a condition that can only be cured by the citizens themselves through their representatives on the city council.

While the taxpayer is most directly interested in the amount of his taxes, he is also interested in whether the taxpayer or not has an interest in the good government of the city and in its prosperity and progress. The citizen makes his living in the city. In a vast majority of cases the amount of his taxes bears only a small proportion to his total earnings. His earnings depend on the business conditions of the city. Business prosperity means more directly to the wage-earner than to the property holder. Brick building operations mean general prosperity in which every one shares. High taxes and depreciated civic credit keep out capital, that with low taxes and sound credit would be invested in building operations.

Brick building operations would mean a general distribution of income and at the same time tend to decrease taxes.

The idea that only the taxpayer is interested in the amount of his taxes is a mistake. The lowest tax man has to pay is the one who is affected by the property or depression of business conditions. Good civic government is good for all citizens. Every citizen is interested in securing good civic government. The tax waster is the enemy of the city and of the power plant? No! Does it require a CASH FORFEIT for failure to carry out the contract? No! This looks like a waste. I wish, if you would, that the city would be the way of being re-established, and an ultimate reduction of the tax burden might be expected. For the fact is that notwithstanding the increased amount of taxes paid, expenditure still keeps far in advance of revenues, the situation becomes seriously discouraging.

Carrying signs, the women marched up and down all day long. They declared their intention to continue this method of protesting against the presence of British soldiers in a United States armory until they leave for Jamaica. One of the signs bore the inscription: "British military men on route to India. Is there to be any American?"

The picketers apparently did not make inquiries regarding the destination of the troops before wording their banners.

BUILDING TRADES IN BALTIMORE REFUSE INCREASE

Men Say that as Prices are Falling and Work Plentiful They Do Not Need Higher Pay

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 10.—Twelve thousand workmen, members of building trades in Baltimore, have declined to accept an increase in wages. At a meeting of representatives of the workers a motion to accept the wage advance from 80 cents to $1.00 an hour was tabled by an overwhelming vote.

One year ago the rate for carpenters was fixed at 80 cents an hour, with the understanding that on November 1st this year the increase would become effective. The agreement was signed by the contractors, trustees, and representatives of the trades. The employers made no attempt to recede from the agreement. Some of the men said the agreement was falling, and there are indications of steady work at the present wage level. Plasterers, alone of the building trades, have gone on strike for an advance.

ITALY'S POSITION IN ADRIATIC IS DEFINED

Foreign Minister Tells Jugo-Slavs What is to be the Future of Fiume and Dalmatia

Rapallo, Italy, Nov. 10.—What may be considered an ultimatum sent to the Jugo-Slavs regarding the pending negotiations between Italy and Jugo-Slavs on the Adriatic question, Count Sforza, the Italian foreign minister, said down Italy's definite minimum claims. These, the document stated, were:

1. The Isonzo frontier, including the Julian Alps, Nivice Mountain, and the railway from Fiume to St. Peter Junction.
2. Territorial continuity between Fiume and Italy.
3. Fiume to be a state entirely independent, without any control by the league of nations.
4. Annexation of the islands of Lussino and Cherso to Italy.
5. The annexation of Zara to Italy.
6. The annexation of several of the Jugo-Slav islands to Italy, for strategic reasons.
7. Guarantee for the protection of the Italian minorities in Dalmatia, remaining under Serbian rule.
8. Demilitarization of some of the Adriatic coastline which was to be allotted to Serbia.

It is stated the Italian minimum terms were presented on the request of the Jugo-Slav delegation. The Jugo-Slavs were said to consider the Italian terms excessive, but they received their reply until the claims had been further examined.

POSTAL CONGRESS IS NEGOTIATING NEW CONVENTION

Expected New Schedule of International Postal Rates Will Go Into Effect Next Year

Madrid, Nov. 10.—The committee and sub-committee of the International Postal congress have virtually completed discussion of the proposals for a new universal postal convention, a draft of which must go to the editorial committee before presentation at a plenary meeting of the congress.

The delegates, who will take a respite from their labors for several days, beginning Sunday, in order to visit the southern cities of Spain, will then take final decisions to be laid before the various governments. It is generally believed that the congress will terminate approximately December 1st. It is expected that the new postal rates will go into effect in October of next year.
